The World Around Us 75

I. Take full advantage of your orientation activities.

II. Wear your name card and notice your classmates'. This is a good way to meet new people.

III. Keep this book while you are at Maryland. It contains much handy information and no similar publication will ever be issued.

IV. If you are a transfer student do not be misled by the terms "Freshman Handbook" and "Freshman Orientation." You will find both extremely helpful.

V. Be loyal to Maryland—it's your university. Support its athletic teams, its people, policies and purposes. Live up to its ideals and show your spirit.

VI. Conduct yourself in a manner which reflects credit on yourself, your family, your friends and your school.

VII. Contribute to the university community to the best of your ability. You will get out only as much as you put in.

VIII. Get as much as you can out of your four years at Maryland. Pay attention in class. This is your best opportunity to gain an education.

IX. Get to know your teachers. They are here to help you.

X. Attend your classes regularly.

XI. Take complete notes; they can help you considerably.

XII. Participate in student activities—you can't obtain a complete education from courses alone. Take advantage of the numerous cultural and social opportunities on campus.

XIII. You are in college now, so forget about your past glories in high school. Don't strut around campus wearing emblems or sweaters of high school achievement but start now to win college recognition.

XIV. Remember: Maryland will be what you make it—YOU are the University.

DEAN

Dr. Wilson H. Elkins

On January 20, 1954, Doctor Wilson H. Elkins became president of the University of Maryland. During the time that he has held this office, Doctor Elkins has been very active in the field of education. He has served as president of the Southern Association of Land-Grant Colleges and Universities and as chairman of the Committee on the College Student for the American Council on Education.

Doctor Elkins, who is a native of Texas, attended Shreiner Institute and the University of Texas, where he received his B. A. and M. A. in History. While in school he was a member of Sigma Nu social fraternity and of Omicron Delta Kappa and Phi Beta Kappa honorary fraternities.

As a recipient of a Rhodes Scholarship, Dr. Elkins attended Oxford University in England. In 1936 he graduated from Oxford with Bachelor of Literature and Doctor of Philosophy degrees.

To the Freshman Class:

I am delighted to have you with us and I welcome you warmly to our campus.

For each one of you this is truly the beginning of a great Adventure in Learning. For many it will represent the last years of formal training before entering your chosen profession. For some, these undergraduate years will form a prelude to further study and pursuit of advanced degrees.

Irrespective of your aims after college, the next four years remain the most crucial and the most formative educational years of your life.

Learn to choose wisely between study and play and between the worth of all enterprises which make demands on your time and energy. Participate in extra-curricular activities and develop your leadership abilities, but remember that our main common purpose is education and your preparation for a successful life and career.

May your years at the University of Maryland be memorable and rewarding ones.

Wilson H. Elkins
President

Dr. Albin O. Kuhn

Since 1958 Dr. Albin O. Kuhn has been Executive Vice President of the University. As an alumnus and member of the faculty, Dr. Kuhn has long been familiar with this campus. He received his B. For three years prior to his present position he held the office of Assistant to the President.

B. James Borreson

As Executive Dean of Student Life, Dean Borreson's office encompasses the wide variety of departments and activities which make up the student's life outside the classroom. Prior to 1958 he was assistant dean of the Graduate School of Business and instructor of Administrative Practices at Harvard.

In 1944 he was graduated from the University of Minnesota. In 1946 he became Director of Student Activities there and in 1954 received the Faculty Recognition Award from the students.

Dean Smith has been the Dean of Arts and Sciences since 1949 and in this time he has been instrumental in starting many systems which have benefited Maryland. Notable among these is the advisory system in colleges and the establishment of the Arts and Sciences convocations to present outstanding members of the faculty to the student body.

In 1919, Dean Smith graduated from Emory University with a B. A. degree. From the University of Chicago he received his M. A. in 1928 and his Ph. D. in 1930.

Dr. J. Freeman Pyle

Dr. Cairns received his B. S., M. S., and Ph. D. degrees from Cornell University.

Dr. Ronald Bamford

Dr. Bamford's position as Dean of the Graduate School includes primarily the supervision and coordination of the 54 departments in College Park and Baltimore offering graduate programs. Advanced studies and research are carried on by those students in pursuit of higher degrees.

Dr. Bamford has served as both Associate Dean of Agriculture and acting Dean of the Graduate School. He received his degrees from Connecticut, Vermont, and Columbia Universities.

HISTORY AND TRADITIONS

HISTORY

You may be wondering why we have three dates on the University seal. Our history dates back to 1807 when the fifth medical college in the United States was established in Baltimore. Several years after the Medical School began, a school for law and one for arts and sciences were established. The colleges following were Dentistry, Nursing, and Pharmacy, all in Baltimore.

The first school established in College Park was the Maryland Agriculture College and Model Farm in 1856. This accounts for the second date on our seal. This school remained private till 1920 when the College Park and Baltimore schools joined to form the University of Maryland.

From an enrollment of 731 at that time, the University has grown to approximately 48,000 students a year. Don't be overwhelmed by this number, for 10,000 of these students are on the College Park campus during the regular session. The remainder of the students are found in Baltimore schools, overseas, and in summer school. A third enrollment figure you may hear is 86,000 students which includes all part-time students as well.

CAMPUS LANDMARKS

Anyone who passes through College Park will find their attention drawn to the several landmarks of our campus. The most outstanding is the towering steeple of our University Chapel. From its location high up on a hill overlooking the Baltimore-Washington Boulevard, the chapel's chimes can be heard every hour. Further through the campus is our Cole Activities Building which seats 14,700 people, and is truly an impressive sight. The new Theodore McKeldin Library situated on the mall is also one of our outstanding buildings. Familiar to the students is the tunnel near South Gate which carries tradition for all lovers passing through it. Another landmark is Fraternity Row which is composed of twelve fraternity and sorority Georgian styled houses. The "row" is seen by all passing through College Park.

TESTUDO

Another tradition on our campus is the University's mascot, perpetual guardian of the south-east gate of Byrd Stadium. He is Testudo, a five hundred pound bronze replica of Maryland's diamondback terrapin.

BLACK AND GOLD

The official school colors for the University of Maryland are black and gold. It is interesting to note that these colors plus the red and white, our sports colors, were originally on coats of arms belonging to the first families settling in Maryland. The colors were then taken for our state flag. In accord, the University has acquired them.

CAMPUS EVENTS

Homecoming

You will experience a special chill of excitement as you witness the opening kick-off of your first football season at Maryland. The gaiety, the tenseness, the cheers, the band, will all make you proud to be a "Terp", win or lose. School spirit rallies to its peak in the beginning of this season as exciting events are anticipated. Pep rallies, home games, an away weekend, and most of all Homecoming, highlight the fall months.

As alumnae and collegians turn out for Homecoming, girls' dormitories and sororities contest for house decoration trophies, while the men's dormitories and fraternities flood the stadium with an array of floats. Climaxing this day are the crowning of Homecoming Queen, and a dance featuring a name band. So ends another season, but its memories will linger.

Campus Chest

Campus Chest, a student committee overseeing campus charity contributions and allocating funds to various foreign, domestic, and student charities, is active many times a year raising money. The funds are received from such activities as the Sophomore Carnival, Donkey Basketball Game, Angel Flight Talent Show, Flying Follies, and the Alpha Phi Omega Ugly Man Contest. Each candidate in the contest receives one vote for each penny contributed to him.

Campus Elections

Maryland students are represented by two political parties, Old Line and Free State, which battle for campus offices each spring. Similar to national elections, each political party holds a nominating convention, and campaigning takes place through voting day. Students elect all class, AWS, Men's League and Student Government offices.

Interfraternity Sing

Each spring Delta Delta Delta sorority sponsors the Interfraternity Sing, a highlight of Greek Week. It is held in Ritchie Coliseum, admission is free, and everyone is welcome. Fraternities and sororities compete with each other and trophies are given to the top places in both divisions. Several honors are presented at this event which include the Morty Cohen Award, the Fraternity Man of the Year, the Hillock Award, and the tapping of Diamond and Kalegethos members.

Harmony Hall

In the fall of every year, Phi Kappa Tau fraternity presents Harmony Hall. Various Greek organizations enter quartets and the judging is done by the Society for the Advancement of Barbership Singing. Besides receiving trophies, the top three winning male and female groups acquire points toward fraternity and sorority of the year awards. Tapping for Diamond and Kalegethos also takes place at this event.

Kappa Alpha Minstrel

A Cotton Picker's Minstrel is annually presented by Kappa Alpha fraternity. The show is complete with song, dance, grease paint and end men. As a production of the old South on stage, the Minstrel is one of Maryland's oldest traditions.

Christmas Events

As the winter holiday season approaches, various campus religious groups make their preparations. The chapel bells ring out Christmas carols every hour as part of the season's festivity. Christmas parties, carroling and the chapel choir's presentation of the "Messiah" are traditional. Chanukah celebrations are also planned with Hillel featuring a social.

Blood Drive

Two days of the fall and spring are set aside for an Annaul Red Cross Blood Drive sponsored by AOPi Sorority and TEP Fraternity. Students give blood in Cole Activities Building, and refreshments are served afterwards. Trophies are awarded to the largest group donors.

Spring Tapping

Spring is a very busy time for honoring outstanding students. At the Interfraternity Sing, Diamond, the sorority honorary, and Kalegethos, the fraternity honorary, tap for leaders in their fields. Featured at the May Day Festival is Mortar Board's tapping of junior and senior women excelling in scholarship, campus service and leadership. Omicron Delta Kappa, and Phi Kappa Phi, the senior scholarship honorary, and other honoraries also tap during the spring months.

Class Events

Soon after you arrive on campus, you will be swept up in freshman elections. Later on in the year is Freshman Day which is packed full of entertainment and games.

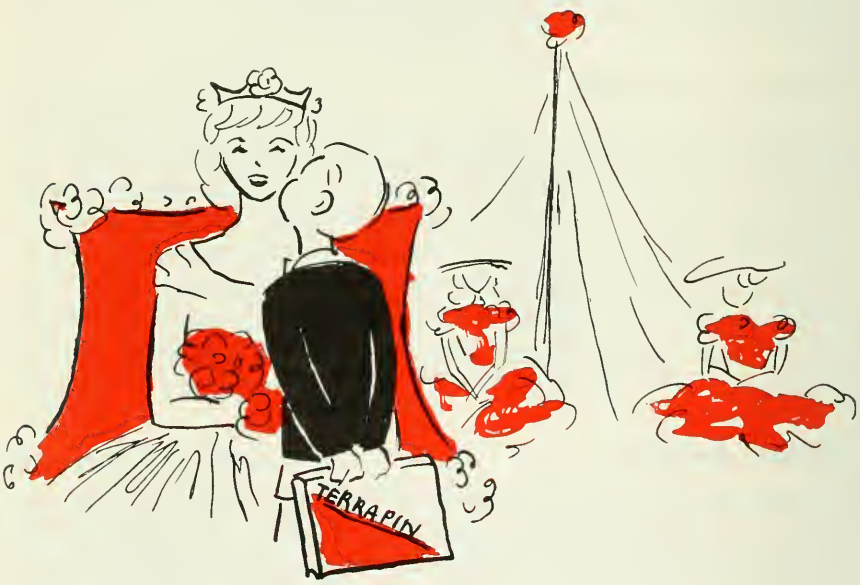
The sophomore class sponsors a carnival. Every residence has an opportunity to enter a booth and the money raised is given to Campus Chest. Concessions and original shows spotlight this event.

Juniors plan a donkey basketball game at which campus leaders compete against one another. This event also helps to raise money for Campus Chest. Each class has a dance, but one of the biggest each year is the Junior Prom. At this time Miss Maryland is crowned. In the Spring, junior women sponsor May Day.

The senior class climaxes their college life with a Senior Prom and "Senior Class Presents", a variety show.

Organization Events

Throughout the year, the campus is active with events sponsored by our many organizations. University Theater is especially busy giving several productions. Angel Flight presents a Fashion Show and Talent Show, the Modern Dance Club gives a concert, Hillel has a skit night, Gymkana performs, and the Aqualiners perform a water ballet. Many dances are planned such as the Military Ball, Panhellenic Pledge Dance, the Interfraternity Ball, and the International Fiesta. Associated Women Students present a Bridal Fair, Campus Chest sponsors its charity drives and the many Greek houses vie for the trophies in musical competition.



May Day

Twenty years ago our past Dean of Women, Adele Stamp, started the tradition of a May Day festival. Each year since then, May Day has honored the outstanding women on campus. A queen is selected by junior women on the basis of her scholarship, citizenship, and service to the University. The pageant features a May pole dance done by outstanding sophomores and junior women, and the tapping of Mortar Board. It is an exciting and memorable event, especially for those honored.

Greek Week

During May of each year fraternities and sororities unite for participation in Greek Week. This week is highlighted with Chariot Races, Bike Races, a Treasure Hunt, the Interfraternity Sing, a Dixieland Band Concert. For the past two years as a climax, the Interfraternity Council sponsored a boat ride on the Potomac, at which the King and Queen of Greeks were crowned.

Dorm Events

The AWS Dormitory Council and Men's League Resident Men's Association help arrange an interesting program for the "Dorm" residents. Good citizenship is promoted, awards are presented to outstanding students, intramural teams are organized, and a social calendar is planned.

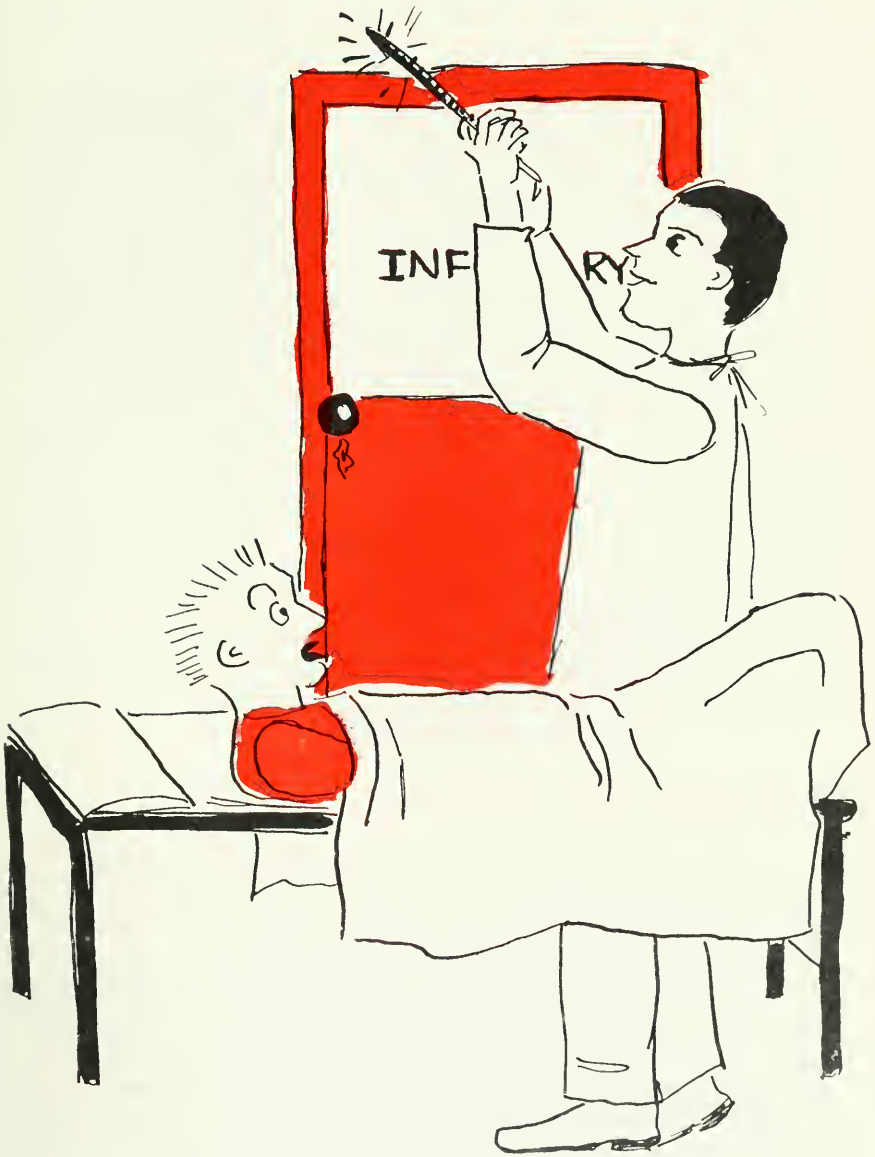
STUDENT SERVICES



BANKING

Banking facilities for students and student organizations are provided by the Suburban Trust Company in College Park and the Citizens Bank of Maryland in Riverdale.

BOOKS

Your first step after registration will be to purchase your textbooks and necessary supplies. The Students' Supply Store, maintained by the University, is located in the basement of the Student Union. Here you may obtain new or used textbooks and supplies at a reasonable price. This store functions for your benefit, and any profits are placed in the student scholarship fund. There is also a local bookstore in College Park, which provides used and new textbooks; and the Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity, which sells used textbooks consigned to them by students.

The book stores have the approved list of the texts and the editions which are to be used in each course. Make sure that you check this list before purchasing your books. In order to avoid the sale of your books by other than you, and to assist in the return of mislaid books, write your name and address on the fly leaf of each book. After the first ten days it will not lower the re-sale value.

A personal library which you may want to collect while in college may prove very useful in future years.

COUNSELLING CENTER

The University maintains the Counseling Center for the purpose of aiding the students in their college life. A $5.00 Test and Advisory fee paid during registration enables an undergraduate to receive assistance.

A well-trained group of counseling psychologists staffs the Counseling Center. They are prepared to aid students with solving problems of social and emotional adjustment, making future plans, or correcting study difficulties.

A Reading and Study Skills Laboratory to aid students in improving their reading and studying is part of the program operated by the Center. This program is given on a six week cycle with two cycles each semester.

DIRECTOR OF ADMISSIONS AND OFFICE OF REGISTRAR

The first office with which you had any contact, as a new student, was the Admissions Office. The Admissions staff handles new admissions, transfer of credits, reinstatements or readmissions. This office is located in Room 118 of the North Administration Building and is open daily.

The Office of the Registrar is also located in the North Administration Building in Room 108. This office handles your official educational record at Maryland. This record includes the courses taken, the credits granted, and the grades earned. They are confidential and available to agencies outside of the University only with your permission. The Office handles computations of grade averages by class, Greek and dorm standings, and honors.

Each male undergraduate student who is subject to draft regulations may request the Registrar to send his rank in his class to his local draft board each year.

FOREIGN STUDENT ADVISER

Dr. Furman Bridgers, the Foreign Student Adviser, lends a helping hand to all students from abroad in their adjustments to the University and to the community life. He begins his services the week before freshman orientation in a special program designed for foreign students. He assists them in registration problems, off campus housing, employment opportunities and social and cultural experiences at Maryland.

The office of the Foreign Student Adviser is located in Room 222 of the North Administration Building.

I.D. CARD

Look your best when you have your picture taken during registration. The student identification card will stay with you throughout your years at the U. of Md. The I. D. card has many functions. It identifies you for attendance at athletic events and student activities. The I. D. is required to check out library books, as well as to vote in student elections.

If you lose your card, notify the Office of the Dean of Men immediately. They will make the arrangements to secure a new card, for which a fee will be charged.

INFIRMARY

The major function of the infirmary is to assist the student and the University in keeping up the standards of health by treating patients, thereby enabling you to make the most of your education. It is open to all students for the treatment of minor injuries and illnesses. All serious injuries and illnesses are transferred to hospitals.

There is a nurse on duty 24 hours a day, and a doctor is on call at all hours for emergencies.

During the regular school year physician's hours are:

Monday-Friday	8:00 A.M. to 1:00 P.M.
	2:00 P.M. to 5:00 P.M.
Saturday	10:00 A.M. to 12:00 noon
Sunday and Holidays	11:00 A.M. to 12:00 noon

LIBRARY

The McKeldin Library, which was opened on January 6, 1958, is of utmost importance to the students. The Library has four main floors and three mezzanines, light reading rooms and many special rooms. The book stacks are open to all students, as are the typing booths, study rooms, piano rooms and browsing room.

The University I. D. card is needed for students to check books out of the library. Books may be returned to the loan desk or the book depositories, which are located at the front entrance in order for books to be returned at any time.

During the regular school year the Library hours are:

Monday-Friday	8:00 A.M. to 10:00 P.M.
Saturday	8:00 A.M. to 1:00 P.M.
Sunday	3:00 P.M. to 10:00 P.M.

Other libraries on campus may be found in the Chemistry, Math and Engineering Buildings.

LOST AND FOUND

The Campus Police at the office in the General Service Building will accept lost and found articles. Administrative offices on campus are also authorized to receive them. They will in turn send them to the Campus Police. Make sure that you get a receipt for any article given to them. If you have lost articles, go to the Campus Police Office, and upon proper identification you may reclaim your possessions. After 90 days the unclaimed articles will be disposed of.

PLACEMENT SERVICE

The University Placement Service has a program designed to offer job opportunities related to the student's present and future employment needs. This program includes the Career Week and the Summer Job Conference.

The Placement Director or your department's faculty placement representative are willing to have conferences with sophomores and juniors to aid them in their future plans.

The most assistance is received during your senior year. This program begins with a direct job getting campaign through the use of the Placement Library, and then some 300 company visitors are brought on campus to recruit graduates. Those who do not receive positions in this manner register with the Service and any job opportunities are directed to them.

Many of the activities are conducted by student committees headed by Mr. Lance Billingsley. Mr. Lewis Knebel is the Director of the Placement Service, and the office is located in Room 225 of the North Administration Building.

SCHOLARSHIP AND LOAN FUND

In order to obtain a scholarship or a loan you must maintain a certain average and show financial need. The National Education Loan Program as well as many other loans and scholarships are available to Maryland students. Further information and application forms may be found in Room 209 of the North Administration Building.

STUDENT EMPLOYMENT

The University tries to assist its students in supplementing the cost of education by helping them find part-time employment.

Workships, part-time employment on campus and part-time employment off campus are the three general types of student part-time employment. Workships require a prescribed amount of work in return for room and board, board, or room. Part-time work starts the student at 75 cents an hour with an increase in pay with increased experience. These jobs are in offices, labs, the library, the Student Union, the Dairy, Salesroom, the experimental farm, etc. If you are a person with special skills; such as stenographic, drafting, and so on, you are paid a higher wage.

Jobs that continue throughout the year and temporary work, as at registration, commencement, and special events, are some more of the available part-time jobs. Off-campus jobs in local business establishments are also obtainable by students. A file of off-campus jobs is kept in the Student Employment Office.

Male students interested in employment should apply at the Student Employment Office, which is located in the Office of the Dean of Men, 222 of the North Administration Building. Women students seeking workships and baby sitting positions should apply at the Office of the Dean of Women in Room 210 of the same building.

STUDENT UNION

The Student Union under the direction of Mr. William Hoff offers many services to the students. The Students' Book Store and the Post Office have already been mentioned. In addition to these, it provides a Check Cashing Service, a student mimeograph and poster service, a refreshment catering, a hobby skills program and a weekly newsletter concerning group and club activities.

Meeting rooms are available for all campus groups, and many organizations have rooms in the Student Union.

TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAM SERVICES

The University switchboard connects to every dormitory. Calls from dorm phones to other dorm phones may be made until 4:00 P.M.

The switchboard telephone hours are:

Tuesday-Thursday	8:00 A.M. to 10:30 P.M.

SOCIAL ETIQUETTE

THE CLASSROOM AND YOU

You want your instructor to know you are in class to learn, and that you have respect for him or her as a teacher and as a human being. How do you get this across? You can't tell him in words, but you can show him in a dozen ways.

Attitude: You can look alert, interested, cheerful and as if you cared about what was going on. You can't afford to sleep in class and you can't afford to slouch in your chair as if you were asleep.

Appearance: You can be neat and clean both as to your person and clothes. This doesn't mean that you have to wear dress-up clothes. It does mean that you are scrubbed, even if you have just come from a greasy lab job, and that your clothes are clean and casual, not soiled and sloppy. It's no compliment to any instructor to appear otherwise and you will have to expect to be judged according to your just desserts on this score.

Attention: Attention again implies alertness to what the instructor is presenting and keeping your mind on what he is saying. Your face will show it if your mind is far away. And you can't pay attention to the instructor and study some other subject, write letters or knit.

Courtesy: You wouldn't talk when someone else is talking in ordinary conversation. The same rule holds in the classroom. Remember too that a whisper carries and that you probably can be heard both by the instructor and your classmates even when you don't intend to be.

Tardiness: This brings up the subject of tardiness. You know how you feel about anyone who is late to an appointment with you. Don't be late if you can possibly avoid it. But if you are late, slip into class as quietly as you can. Drop down into the first vacant seat. Avoid disturbing the whole class by walking across in front of the instructor and the class to get to your own seat. Apologize to the instructor after class for being tardy and make sure then that he knows where you sat so you won't be counted absent.

Size up the situation: You can judge the atmosphere of the class. In most cases you will be encouraged to ask questions, if you don't understand, or to participate in discussion. This will help you learn. Usually you will need to be recognized by the instructor before speaking. Remember that other students need to participate too, so don't monopolize the time. Think through your question before you raise it. A good question helps the whole class. A poor one wastes the time of many people. As long as you are attending class, don't leave before it is over. The instructor, not the bell, dismisses class. Don't put on your coat and gather up your books until you are dismissed—you can't afford to look too eager to leave.

Individual Interview: In an individual interview with your instructor, your academic adviser, the head of your school or any staff member, you stand out as a person even more than you do in class. The staff member needs to feel your respect for him as a person as much as you need to feel welcome and comfortable with him. Remember that in his office the staff member calls the tune. You need to be alert and responsive to every cue, so you'll know what the tune is. As host in his own office the staff member will invite you to sit down and indicate where. Wait to be invited. Don't overstay your welcome. The staff member might enjoy visiting indefinitely with you, but he probably is operating on a tight schedule. If you are alert you'll catch a sign of some kind that says clearly that the interview needs to be brought to a close. Do thank the staff member for his time and help—and mean it when you say it.

There is one important way that we can return these favors and that is to make a mental note of each of our professor's correct titles and use them. There is nothing more insulting than to call a Doctor. Mister. Deans justly expect the students to rise when they enter the room.

MARYLAND ETIQUETTE

Not a great deal can be said that will mean much to you until you have rubbed elbows with other students and have discovered the college way of life. A few hints, though, may help you to fit easily and comfortably into the University scene.

First of all, Maryland is a friendly place and you can do your bit in making it so. Don't stand too much on ceremony as far as making friends is concerned. Others, more shy than you, will appreciate your taking the initiative in speaking and being friendly. Courtesy and thoughtfulness in the use of common facilities, whether in your residence or on campus, always help to make you better liked by others. Respecting your fellow student's needs for quiet while studying indicates a thoughtful person rather than a selfish one.

Nothing distracts more from a girl's appearance than to see her walking across campus smoking a cigarette. Besides it is against the rules.

Speaking of walking across campus, you'll be doing quite a bit of that and you'll be looking for shortcuts. However, try not to trample the grass too much. The grounds are one of the first things that impress you as you drive through campus, so try to keep them in relatively good condition.

You boys should make a mental note of the fact that it's a good idea to be on your best behavior when you are visiting in a girls' dorm or sorority house. Remember that smoking is prohibited in the lobby of the dorms.

Dress

Never lose any sleep over the right clothes to wear. For women, a wardrobe of straight skirts, sweaters, blouses, sheath dresses and a few cocktail dresses will fulfill the purpose. A short walking coat is best for classes.

One of the biggest events last year was the adoption of the rule concerning bermudas. No women are permitted to wear them on Saturday except in University buildings. They may be worn to the bookstore in the Student Union. Of course, men are allowed to wear them on weekdays also.

It is very important that coeds don't violate this rule, since it could easily be withdrawn.

Men should keep in mind that this isn't a "cow college," so dungarees won't do. We like to see collegiate khakis, wool slacks, and perhaps even a coat and tie which do a lot to improve classroom atmosphere. Of course, if you're going to all this trouble, it would be a little silly to ruin it by slouching in your chair or casually draping your legs over the chair in front.

Recreation

Like many Maryland students, you will probably want to take time out from studying to go out for a good time.

On campus, the Student Union, opening at 7 a.m. and closing at 10 p.m., is always a good bet. On Fridays, Saturdays and Sunday some top rate movies are featured at student prices. For TV fans the televisions, including a colored one, are available. Also, the Hi-Fi and Stereo rooms are usually open. For anyone interested in a little more strenuous exercise, the billiard room is in the basement.

If you feel the need for nourishment, the lunch room is open from 8 to 4 o'clock. This is a real good place to socialize and show off your dancing talent. The tables can be pushed back at 4 p.m. The jukebox will most likely be busy.

If the weather permits, the tennis courts, are open. One is located between Cole Activities Building and B parking lot and the other behind Preinkert Fieldhouse. If you're a swimming enthusiast, there is coed swimming at Cole Activities Building. On Wednesday night, the Preinkert pool is open to women. The Preinkert tennis courts are open only to women during the day, but on nights and weekends it is available for the men also.

A short walk to the Baltimore Boulevard, and you can try your skill at bowling. For those lucky enough to have a car, you can visit the Hyattsville moviehouse or one of the local theaters.

Miniature Golf is always a lot of fun and Green Meadows has a popular course. For more experienced golfers, Maryland Golf Course and Maryland Driving Range are behind the stadium.

In addition to the athletic recreational activities in and around College Park, several campus organizations, classes, etc. provide recreational evenings throughout the year.

DINING HALL

Those of you who live in the dormitories must have your meals at the University Dining Hall, where meals are served at reasonable cost. Other students may make arrangements to board by the semester at the Dining Hall. If you live off-campus, it is possible to get your lunch at the University cafeteria located on the ground floor of the Dining Hall.

Rules and Regulations

Dress: All students should be properly dressed to come into the Dining Hall, certain rules must be followed and certain standards of behavior must be maintained. All students are expected not to wear shorts, halters, bermudas, slacks, and blue jeans. No sports clothes covered by rain coats are to be worn in the Dining Hall. Men should wear coats and ties to Sunday dinner.

Food: Under no circumstances should any food or any other property of the Dining Hall be taken out.

Meal cards: It is required that whenever a supervisor or other official of the Dining Hall requests your Dining Hall card, it must be shown to him at once. Your Dining Hall card is not transferable. Do not lend your card to anyone for any reason. Improper use of the Dining Hall card makes a student liable to disciplinary action. Any Dining Hall card lost or misplaced must be reported to the supervisor on duty immediately.

Behavior: It is improper, inconsiderate, and very confusing to break into line before your proper turn.

HOUSING

DORMITORIES

Your welcome to the University of Maryland wouldn't be complete without a quick look at your new campus home. Your next few short years will revolve around whether your dormitory home, a fraternity or sorority house, or, if you are a commuter, your campus gathering spots.

In one of the Georgian style buildings found sprinkled around the campus, you will find your dormitory home. Here you will hang your hat, your clothes, the picture of your one-and-only, your calendar, or a program from the latest University Theater production. Here you will study, sleep, laugh, cry, sing, and hold "bull sessions."

But along with studying in the dorm, you will participate in many special social functions. Several times each year, the girls' and boys' dorms are the scenes of evening desserts. Members of each of the dormitories participating gather in the recreation rooms of a dorm for two hours of light refreshments and dancing . . . just socializing in general.

The rec room of the girls' dorms and some of the boys' dorms supplies you with cokes to keep you awake at night, candy and cookies for late snacks, television for study breaks, telephones, a ping-pong table for evening enjoyment, and a kitchen where you can create your own delicacies.

Your room will include single beds, dressers, a desk, closets, chairs, and lamps. Your ingenuity will create a room that reflects your own personality. Put personal touches into it by choosing curtains, bedspreads, rugs, dresser scarfs that suit your tastes . . . and don't forget a bulletin board for your collectors' items. An extra table, bookcase, and lamp adds warmth to the room; girls might want to bring a hair dryer, and iron (for use in the laundry room), shoe racks, a radio, clock, but no hotplates please!

GREEK RESIDENCES

After spending a year "on the hill," you may find your interests turning toward a certain fraternity or sorority. You will find life in a Greek House diversified and interesting.

Fraternity row, across Route 1 from the main campus, houses eight fraternities and five sororities; College Avenue, Princeton Avenue, Norwich Road, Knox Road, serve as addresses for the remaining Greek homes.

Living with a group of people your own age, people who become as close as your sisters in a sorority or brothers in a fraternity, creates an intimate and homelike atmosphere. Your house provides many advantages: meals served in a family style, rugs covering the floors, and comfortable chairs ready for your comfort.

Sleeping accommodations vary from house to house. You may have a room equipped with a desk, chest and bed, or you may have a room which contains only desks, chests, bookcases, and your personal belongings. In this latter situation, the dormitory system is used; on the third floor, one huge room contains nothing but beds. This is convenient when you want nothing but peace and quiet when you retire.

On Friday and Saturday nights, fraternity houses are the scenes of gala parties . . . pajama parties, South Sea Island parties, Parisian parties, and impromptu parties.

Although living in a Greek house is a change from dormitory life, you will find it an unusual and worthwhile experience.

DAYDODGERS

Our campus daydodgers have not been left out of the hustle and bustle of campus living. The Student Union is the campus home of the many, many students who daily make their way to the Maryland grounds for classes. Here these people will find many conveniences set up for their comfort: a regular cafeteria provides breakfast and lunch or after class snacks; the lounge of the SU is equipped with comfortable chairs, a color television set, and a host of students with whom you will become well acquainted in the next few years. The Student Union also houses a room containing a piano, a room containing art works which are displayed throughout the year, and rooms in which you can study.

Many commuters spend some of their study time in the new McKeldin Library. This library supplies a wealth of knowledge, large rooms in which to study, and small cubicles where you can study in solitude if you prefer.

Whether you live in a dormitory on campus, a Greek house in College Park, or at home, enjoying only your daytime hours at the University of Maryland, your life will be as pleasant as you make it. Study hard, but have fun.

CAMPUS PHONES

The various halls in the dorms contain phones with a certain number extension. If you live in the dorms and wish to contact someone whose extension you know, ask the operator for the number of the extension you want. To contact the University extensions from off campus, dial WArfield 7-3800, ask for the section of the campus you want, such as Womens' Dorms, Mens' Dorms, Administration Office, etc., then ask for the number of the extension you wish to contact.

The following are extension numbers of dormitory main desk phones:

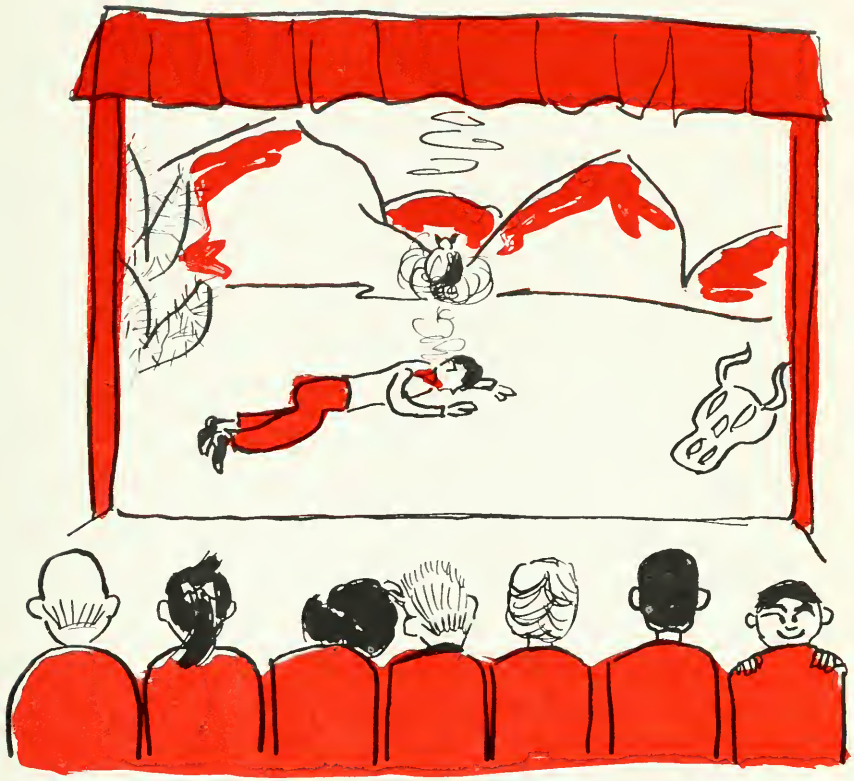
STUDENT ACTIVITIES



STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

The Student Government Association is fashioned after our national government having all three branches and a similar division of powers. There are fourteen SGA Cabinet officers. These officers are elected each spring semester. The Cabinet acts on bills originating in the legislature much in the same way as does the President of the United States. Bills can be vetoed, pocketed, passed, or amended. Of course the Cabinet may originate bills which then go to the legislature.

The legislature is composed of nine seniors, eight juniors, seven sophomores, six freshmen and the Vice-President of SGA, who acts as Speaker. At their first meeting they begin to work on motions originating from the floor and on recommendations sent to them by their committees. Both the legislature and the executive council meet on Tuesday in the Student Union Building. The legislature meets at 3:00 p.m.; whereas, the Council meets at 7:00 p.m. Visitors are always welcome and may present petitions or speeches from the floor.

The SGA committees function apart from the Executive Council but, nevertheless, are responsible to it; and, must make reports about each respective activity while it is in the planning stage. What committees are there?

Finance Committee: This group plans the yearly budget from the twelve dollar student activity fee paid to the University during registration. The Finance Committee appropriates funds for every organization that is recognized as a student activity by the Faculty Committee on Student Life and Activities. Much of the financial work presented on the floor of the legislature is previewed by this committee. The SGA Treasurer is automatically chairman of the Finance Committee.

Election Board: This committee is in charge of all elections on campus. It controls the balloting at the polls, handles the complaints registered against illegal practices of candidates, and the IBM counting of ballots.

Homecoming:This large committee plans the judging of house and float decorations during the fall Homecoming weekend. It also administers the selection of the Homecoming Queen and arranges the outside entertainment for the Homecoming Dance.

Calendar: Each spring the Student Government Association, in cooperation with the Office of the Dean of Women, compiles a master calendar from which a semester calendar is printed for student distribution.

Campus Chest: In the spring, this committee sponsors projects to raise money for charity organizations.
Culture: This group organizes the National Symphony concerts and a series of lighter choral and orchestral performances.
Freshman Orientation Board: This organization will guide you through assemblies, dances and orientation regulations during your first week on campus.
Who's Who: This committee selects outstanding senior men and women, who are qualified to have their names appear in the national manual, Who's Who, which recognizes college leaders.

Although applications may be made at almost any time throughout the year, certain deadlines are imposed. Reminders that applications are being accepted and notifications of their deadlines appear in the Diamondback.

The judicial branch of SGA is composed of a Central Student Court and minor courts. The six justices and the Chief Justice are selected from Mortar Board and Omicron Delta Kappa members or nominees. These justices have jurisdiction over appealed cases and all disciplinary cases recommended to it. The decision of the court is always final with no right to appeal.

The well-worded preamble to the new SGA constitution points to the goal toward which the government is directed: "We, the students of the University of Maryland, in order to encourage democratic thought and action, offer training in the application of our cherished principles of self-government, secure to ourselves the right to discuss and formulate our own policies, demonstrate our concern for and promote the interest of our alma mater, and provide the fullest degree of self-government possible under the jurisdiction of the University's administrative personnel and governing bodies and under the constitution and laws of the State of Maryland and the United States of America, do hereby ordain and establish, under God, this Constitution to be the fundamental law governing ourselves and our successors, now and hereafter, so long as it shall stand the test of time and respond to our need for self-government."

ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS

Every woman student of the University of Maryland is a member of AWS. Since it is the governing body of all women on this campus, AWS has the responsibility of setting up and enforcing standards of conduct and dormitory regulations. It sponsors cultural, social, and various other women's activities on campus. Some AWS programs are:

Executive Council: The AWS Executive Council is, of course, very important. It is composed of a President, 1st and 2nd Vice-Presidents, Secretary, Treasurer, representatives from each class council, and committee chairmen who make up the governing policy. This policy deals with all phases of dormitory and sorority living, sets up women's regulations, academic and social standards.

Big Sister Program: Every year as the new students arrive on campus they are welcomed into their new residences by a "Big Sister." The big sister purpose is to help all new dorm residents get acquainted with each other so they can feel right at home. Daydodgers have big sisters also.

Bridal Fair: This function is held every spring in the Armory. There are fashions from the bridal gown to the honeymoon trousseau and displays of everything a new bride will need in her home.

Orphan's Party: This program is co-sponsored by Panhel. A day of entertainment and toys for orphans creates a pleasurable atmosphere.

Christmas Pageant: Near Christmas time a re-creation of the Nativity scene on the Chapel steps sets a joyful Christmas mood over the entire campus.

Women's Employment Conference: This is a tea held every year for those who are seeking part-time or full-time employment. It gives women students the opportunity to talk with representatives from various companies.

Public Relations: This new committee is set up to recognize applications for AWS committees, to send congratulatory notes, and to get across AWS policies.

Social Committees: This is bound to be a pleasurable committee. It works with the Men's League to set up various social events, such as dances and buffets.

There is a committee for practically every interest ranging from art to leadership and culture. It is easy to join, just fill out an application!

MEN'S LEAGUE

"We, the male students of the University of Maryland, in order to promote the educational, cultural, social, and athletic welfare and interest of the men of the University, and to offer the men of the University a chance to perpetuate the mutual benefits derived from college life and a chance to present their problems and to assist in their solution, do hereby establish this constitution of the Men's League of the University of Maryland."

So reads the preamble to the Men's League Constitution. Though it sounds good, the problem is how to fulfill the objectives which we have chosen, and how to achieve the goals we have set before us. What is educational, cultural, social and athletic welfare; and what are the mutual benefits and problems? The first consideration to make is that you, and each undergraduate male student here at Maryland, is a member of the Men's League.

Each year the Men's League sponsors a number of events for the benefit of the male student body. Summer Job Forums, No Shave Week, and Freshmen Information Assemblies are a few of the annual programs of the Men's League. The Resident Men's Association also comes under the Men's League. To handle the problems that such undertakings create, the Student Government has seen fit to establish the Men's Executive Council.

The Executive Council meets weekly to discuss and plan the programs to be presented. The representatives to the Executive Council are elected by the student body-at-large in the annual elections. You, the male student, select these representatives, or you may even aspire to be one. Suggestions from the Interfraternity Council; the Resident Men's Association; the freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior classes; the Student Government Association; Greeks and independents; residents and commuters are brought to the attention of the Executive Council. Any action relevant to the undergraduate male student on such committees as Campus Improvements, Student Life and Dining Hall Improvements. For further interests of the students, the Men's League also has established the Student Court which is subordinate to the Central Student Court.

The Men's League Student Court review, regulates and exerts jurisdiction concerning violations of men's rules as set forth by the Student Government Constitution or the Administration. Instances of violations may be referred directly to the Men's League Student Association. The Men's League Student Court passes its findings and recommendations on to the Administration and acts as the enforcement body for the action taken.

In the spring semester of every year, the Men's League holds its Leadership Banquet. At this time, awards and recognitions are given to the outstanding male students and teachers.

The Men's League is proud to boast that this year has seen the marked improvement in the quantity, quality and diversity of the Dining Hall menu, and that the Men's League was not without influence in the efforts to accomplish this program. Next year further improvements are planned, and the Men's League will continue to strive toward the accomplishment of these goals.

The Job Conferences, No Shave Week and Freshmen Assemblies will be held next year as they have in the past. Also proposed are many new programs.

The Men's League is a part of the Student Government Association, and you are encouraged to take part in your student government. Student government was created and acts in your interest and for your benefit, and that participation which you give it will help it realize its goals. Help us to help you help us all!

PUBLICATIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS

The Diamondback is our campus newspaper; it is edited, written, and financed by the student body. It is published four times a week and is distributed at convenient spots around campus.

As a guide to campus life, the Diamondback has all the features of a metropolitan newspaper. Feature stories, sports pages, comic strips, and club news are only part of this publication. In addition, the paper puts out a special April Fool's issue called the "Diamondbreak."

Openings for interested undergraduates are available in all departments. The office is located in the Journalism Building.

Published six times during the school year, the Old Line is the campus humor magazine. The best in student creative writing is presented, as well as photography, college humor and features on campus personalities and activities.

Membership on the staff is open to all students in both the editorial and business departments of the Old Line. Contributions are always welcomed.

Maryland's social, academic, athletic, religious, and political activities of the year are reviewed in the student yearbook, the Terrapin. The first copy of this annual publication is traditionally presented to the May Queen as part of the May Day ceremonies. Later in the month, the Terrapin is distributed to the student body.

Staff membership is open to all students. Those interested should apply to the editor in the Journalism Building.

The M-Book is an informational guide which is published expressly for incoming freshmen and is distributed during registration. It is a handy reference for newcomers to the Maryland campus.

The M-Book is presented to freshmen free of charge. Other students desiring a copy may purchase it at the Student Union.

The editor, managing editor, and business manager are appointed by the Publications Board in the spring. The remainder of the staff is appointed by the editor from applications submitted by interested individuals.

The newest addition to the University's publications is Expression, a literary magazine. Short stories, poems, and drawings make up its contents.

Students are urged to offer contributions to Expression. It is published twice a year, and is distributed to students at convenient places on campus.

WMUC, the radio voice of the University of Maryland, broadcasts campus events. Live events carried during the year include the Interfraternity Sing, Harmony Hall, campus election returns, and Handel's "Messiah."

WMUC offers all phases of radio work to interested students. The radio station operates on a 6-day a week schedule. The office is located in FF, and everyone is invited to visit.

CULTURE AND ENTERTAINMENT

To give us the badly needed study breaks during this week, there is a variety of entertainment that caters to Maryland students. Why, without parties and that long awaited Saturday night date, there would be no color in each week. But naturally these fun fests and movie dates will become "old stuff" to you and you will no doubt find yourself hunting every corner for something "new" to see and do. Actually you will have little trouble, as many campus organizations, as well as outside entertainers, show us their talents in the course of the year.

The SGA Cultural Committee is always available on the spot to arrange performances for students by artists outside the University.

The four National Symphony concerts sponsored by the Student Government are big events on our calendars. As a student you get all tickets free, all you need is your Student Activities Card, to present at the door. Their program usually includes four different types of entertainment; namely, piano, opera, jazz and ballet.

You will find that Ritchie Coliseum is the scene of many shows you will not want to miss. Phi Kappa Tau fraternity's Harmony Hall features Barber Shop quartet singing competition. Tri-Delta sorority sponsors the Interfraternity Sing which is competition between many campus fraternities and sororities. These events are free and on week nights.

The now famous Flying Follies cannot be missed. This organization grew out of an overseas trip made by twenty-eight students to Scotland, Iceland, the Azores, and Bermuda during Christmas of '58. After returning from the trip, the group decided to become a permanent organization to provide entertainment for the campus and community. Under their "new regime," Flying Follies is a school function that first owes shows to the campus before it makes engagements throughout the east. Last year they performed during Freshmen Orientation, Newcomer's Club meetings, country club dinners and hospital parties. The University Theater is the setting for the two hour Flying Follies show on campus.

Tryouts for Flying Follies come in mid-October. Auditions are held for performers and interviews are given to technical workers. A Review Board of faculty members, student members and three talent chairmen rate the performer on stage presence, personality, potential talent, and audience appeal. Since there is a good chance that the group will travel abroad, put your talents to use and try out. Who knows, you may become a star!

The longer you are here the more you will see that we are a rather musical campus. You will enjoy the concerts given by the band in Ritchie Coliseum. Choral works take the spotlight, particularly at Christmas and Easter when the Chapel Choir gives the appropriate portion of Handel's "Messiah" for the holidays. These performances usually take place in Memorial Chapel on the Sunday before classes let out. Along the same line are the Men's Glee Club and the Women's Chorus productions. The annual "Ceremony of Carols" by the Women's Chorus, following the AWS Christmas pageant, adds a seasonal glow to the campus.

Now if you are intellectually minded or show an interest in world affairs, you will definitely want to attend some of the Coffee Hours sponsored by the Associated Women Students held in the Student Union on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. Discussions led by faculty members include world, national, and local topics which are of particular interest to college students. Make a note to be in the Student Union and drop in on one of these groups.

Of all the events held during the year you will find that there is one to which everyone is urging you to attend. This is the Convocation or Convocations, depending on how many speakers are available. Classes are called and masses of students swarm to hear the hour long program.

The Kappa Alpha Minstrel adds a touch of humor to each school year. This annual event is a highlight in the spring semester. Tickets are sold a week in advance at the Central Auditorium box office.

During the year, the art department sponsors several exhibits in the Student Union. You will probably be astonished when you see the talent that some Maryland students possess.

If you are athletically inclined, you will definitely enjoy the famous Gymkana Troup shows. They are always held in the spring semester just when that lag before Easter break begins to show. Cole Field House is the setting and ticket books are the admission.

Also along the athletic line is the Aqualiners' Water Show held in the men's pool in the Field House about the same time of year. Tickets for this show are available at the door.

You will not want to miss either of these shows as they provide an enjoyable bit of entertainment.

University Theater is the dramatic group on campus. Each year the U.T. presents four major productions which usually include a contemporary play, a Greek tragedy, an experimental play and a musical. The theater is always alive with excitement and will begin its active year by having a try-out September 21st. The group has planned a very full schedule right up to the end of the season on May 7.

Everyone is welcome and needed at U.T. To be eligible for membership, a student is required to work three productions and ten hours in the workshop which will count as one of the major productions. All parts of every play are open to everyone and besides actors, make-up artists, costume committees, props, lighting, publicity, box office, and house committees are needed to produce a good show. No experience in the theater is necessary to work in any capacity on the productions.

Why is ROTC required?

The two years of ROTC are also a prerequisite to graduation, unless the student is a veteran of the armed forces.

What is ROTC?

The ROTC—Reserved Officers Training Corps—program is divided into two parts: the basic courses taken during the freshman and sophomore years, and the advanced courses which may be elected during the junior and senior years.

What is Advanced ROTC?

To qualify for the advanced ROTC program, cadets are carefully screened during their first two years. Those men who choose to fulfill their military obligations through

SPORTS

INTRAMURALS

If you are interested in sports, but, like the majority, are not quite talented enough to participate in varsity athletics, you may enter any of the various competitive sports offered by the Intramurals Program.

Intramurals, through both Greek and Independent competition, offers such sports as touch football, basketball, softball, and boxing. All leagues are completely organized and scheduled. Managerial positions are also open.

W.R.A.

The Women's Recreation Association serves in the capacity of providing competitive athletics for women. Volleyball, badminton, basketball, softball and swimming tournaments are held throughout the year.

Both dorms and sororities are invited to compete for the trophy which is presented to the outstanding organization.

You will have a W.R.A. representative in your dorm who will enter you in any activity you desire.

VARSITY ATHLETICS

Now that you have been introduced to the athletic program here at the University, we will take you to the sports individually. This should help you to follow your favorite sport more closely by knowing who to look for and where to find them.

Football

Calling signals for the gridmen this fall are Richie Novak and the surprise man of '59, Dale Betty. Dwayne Fletcher and Ev Cloud are the key men in the halfback slot. Filling the fullback position is Pat Drass.

Providing the main strength in the middle of the Terp line are Leroy Dietrich at center, Joe Hrezo and Pete Boinis at guard, and Tom Sankavick at tackle. Completing the lineup are Vinny Scott and Gary Collins, considered by many the best end on the east coast, in the end slots.

Soccer

Coach Doyle Royal's championship soccer team again takes the field this fall with a stellar lineup. Returning to spark the team are hustlers Juan Carlos Martin, Ian Forrest, Cliff Krug, and Dick Romine, among others. Also providing the backbone of the Terps will be those freshmen coming up from the spectacular frosh team of last year.

Basketball

Heading Coach Bud Millikan's ball-bouncers are Paul Jelus, star forward of last year's team, Ted Marshall, who will fill the position of center, and Bruce Kelleher. Kelleher and Jelus are probably the best combination on the east coast. Feeding the varsity from the frosh team this year will be Bob Eicher and Bill Statiulatis, prominent members of the '59-'60 frosh team.

Swimming

The ACC championship swimming team will again be led this winter by Coach Bill Campbell. Head men on this year's squad will be Al Marmelstein, Nick Paleologis, and Mike Maeth.

Wrestling

Sully Krouse's wrangling wrasslers will again attempt to capture the ACC title—a title which they have held ever since they entered the conference. Leading the matmen this year will be Dick Baker, Hank Poniatowski, undefeated ACC champ, Gene Kerin, and Ed Cliatt.

Track

Guiding the indoor and outdoor track men is Coach Jim Kehow. Providing the manpower will be Frank Colavita, Nick Kovalikides, Don Whitaker, Tom Glass, and Dick and Gene Estes.

Lacrosse

Leading a group of all-star players for the '61 season will be Jack Faber and Al Heagy, the coaches of the lacrosse team. At attack will be Charlie Horton and Jim Martone; midfield, Bob Lemken and Buddy Beardmore; at defense, Dick Scarbath and Walt Malinowski; and tending goal, Bill Chambers. Adding to this powerful team will be members of last year's undefeated freshman lacrosse team.

Baseball

As the Terp diamondmen take the field next spring, such veterans as George Krouse and Phil Rogers will lead the team. Others returning to the team will be Bruce Corbin, Jack Rogers, and Larry Kupper.

Tennis

Once again Coach Doyle Royal leads the Terps, this time as the coach of the tennis team. Backing him next spring will be Chuck Abelson, Bob Kight, Al Citrenbaum, and John Nogrady. Also providing the manpower will be members of last year's frosh team.

Golf

As Maryland swings into spring, the golf team will swing into action behind the coaching of Frank Cronin. Backing the coach will be Paul Quinn and Tom Bartolec, among others.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

GENERAL REGULATIONS

It has been said that all those who don't get married by the time they graduate from high school go to college—and there they get four more years to try. Most of the men on campus are working for a BA or a BS degree, but it often appears (at least to the men) that the coeds are mostly after their MRS degree.

While all play and no work will get you a fast ticket out of the University, the reverse of this isn't good either. Even the men agree that they can study better if they have a weekend date to look forward to.

Boy Visits Girl

Since all of the girls who live on campus are either in a dorm or a sorority house, the University has formulated some rules designed to keep these places from being mad houses every day of the week.

Men can visit the girls' dorm from noon until 10 p.m. every day but Monday, when they must leave by 9:45 p.m. In addition, on Friday and Saturday the hours are extended until 12:45 a.m.; and on Sunday they are 9 a.m. to 10:30 p.m.

Boys should call for their girls in the dorm lobby, and they are not to wander into the rest of the building unless escorted by one of the residents. No smoking is allowed in the lobby.

The sororities have the same hours on Friday and Saturday, but they are a good deal more restrictive the rest of the week. Sundays are open from 10:00 a.m. until 10:30 p.m. Varying with each house, one day men may call from 2 p.m. until 10 p.m., another from 2 p.m. until 8 p.m., one day from 2 p.m. until dinner, and one day is closed.

Men calling for dates at other times may wait for their dates in the reception hall for five minutes at the discretion of the housemother.

Girl Visits Boy

Men's dorms are a no-woman's land, for girls are not permitted to enter them except for registered parties. Relatives visiting boys should call at the dorm office in Annapolis Hall or at the housemother's apartment.

Fraternity members must have the permission of the housemother before bringing a girl into the house. Regular hours for women visitors are 4:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Fridays, 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. Saturdays, and 2:30 to 7 p.m. Sundays. Registered parties are to be over by 12:30 a.m. both Friday and Saturday nights.

MOTOR TRAFFIC REGULATIONS

Many students find it necessary to drive on campus, and therefore the Campus Police Force has been established for the protection of all concerned.

Anyone associated with the University, who operates a vehicle on campus, must register the vehicle, regardless of its ownership, with the University Police within twenty-four hours after arrival. Penalty for failure to do this is a $5 fine, so in case you don't own an oil well or two, please don't forget to register your car.

Upon registration you will be given a parking permit which must be placed in the top center of your front windshield. Parking in any lot other than that specified on the permit between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. weekdays will result in a $3 fine.

There is an Appeals Board composed of a member from the administration, a faculty member, and a student which meets regularly to consider questionable cases, but you've got to have an awfully good case before they will consider it.

DEPORTMENT AND DISCIPLINE

It is assumed that all persons who continue their schooling beyond the secondary level are trying to become mature and responsible members of the society in which they live. It is not just idle talk that the leaders of society will be its more educated members. But perhaps even more important than the knowledge a University can impart to its students is the opportunity to mature in wisdom and responsibility.

A student is expected to know the fundamentals of personal integrity and their importance. Any student who violates these fundamentals is dealt with accordingly, since such a person has no place in society at all, and especially not a position of leadership. A student may be given disciplinary probation for misdemeanors, or he may be suspended or expelled from the University, depending on the seriousness of the offense.

While improper conduct in general is out of line, specific rules the administration requires students to honor include the following:

1. No drinking of alcoholic beverages on campus, in fraternities or sororities, or at any functions sponsored by a student organization.
2. No gambling on campus or in fraternity or sorority houses.
3. No smoking in classrooms.
4. No one is to be in a classroom, administration, or recreation building unsupervised after 8 p.m. weekdays or on holidays without written permission.
5. Keys to rooms and buildings are obtained through official channels only. Illegal possession or unauthorized use of keys is considered a serious offense.
6. No mobs or riots are permitted, panty raids included.
7. No cheating or plagiarism.

ACADEMIC REGULATIONS

Exams: Midterm examinations are usually predetermined by the instructor and dates for these appear on the course outline. Finals are held at the end of each semester. "Blue Books", the official exam booklets are required unless otherwise specified by the instructor.

Dismissal and Probation: The rules governing dismissal and probation that you should be acquainted with at the present time are:

A student failing 50 percent or more of his academic credits in any semester will be dismissed.

A student failing 35 percent of his academic credits in any semester will be placed on academic probation.

A student having been placed on probation and not achieving such grades as are required under the probation plans will be dismissed.

A student will remain on academic probation for the next semester of residence. He will then be released provided he has earned at least a 1.75 average and has not failed more than 35 percent of his work.

Exceptions are made for the first semester freshmen. A freshman who is dismissed from the University at the end of his first semester because he failed 50 percent or more of his academic credits will be reinstated immediately on the probation plan upon receipt of a specific request by the student's parent or guardian.
